Then the colonel left a Bible without charge and went on his way, declining the offer to remain for the night as he expressed the hope of making a sale or sales before the close of the day and thus assist in spreading the gospel. The book left excited the father's curiosity and he began to read, and the longer he read the more he became interested and it finally became his almost constant companion. And when he was converted he went about spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ. This called down upon his head the wrath of those in power and his property valued at $50,000 was confiscated and destroyed and he and his family driven out of the country. It was then that he determined that his son should be educated and preach the gospel. This he has been doing for some years during vacation and he recently received and accepted a call to a Presbyterian church in Minnesota where he will remain for some time and then probably go to foreign lands as a missionary. The exhibit will be in a tent near main hall and will be free to everybody. —The county agricultural society makes it possible for the industrious young man who raises the best crop of corn in Mahoning this year to enjoy a free trip to Washington, D. C. This trip is one well worth bending every effort to secure. A trip to Washington is a liberal education of itself. —All details have been worked out for the proper observance of Memorial Day in Canfield. The meeting place will be town hall where the procession will form at 9:30 a. m. and march to the village cemetery. —Mrs. Elizabeth Stille died last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. I. Manchester, on West Main street. Her husband, John Stille, to whom she was married in 1871, died 24 years ago. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Daisy Lynn of Denver, Mrs. J. I. Manchester of Canfield and Harry Stille of Indiana. In the cemetery of a few years spent with her daughter in Denver most of her life was passed in Canfield. She was for many years a member of the local Presbyterian church. Always quiet and unassuming she had endeared herself to a wide circle of friends. Funeral services held from the Manchester home Monday morning and conducted by Rev. R. E. Pugh were largely attended. Interment was made in Zion cemetery, north of the village.

A TALENTED YOUNG BRAZILIAN

Occupied the Pulpit of the Presbyterian Church Last Sunday Morning.

Rev. Antonio Perpetuo de Botucatu, Brazil, spent several days the past week with Prof. J. F. Guy in this place. Six years ago Rev. Perpetuo arrived in Wooster on a rainy night in the hope of mastering the English language and fitting himself for the ministry. Prof. Guy met him at the station. He was only able at that time to make himself understood through an interpreter, and his total resources consisted of $12. But he had in him the determination to succeed, and although a stranger in a strange land with little money and no financial backer, he worked early and late mastering English and earning money in various ways to pay living expenses and tuition. And this he did, and more. He was not only able to graduate with honors from Wooster University but to enter Princeton University from which he graduated and recently was ordained a Presbyterian minister. Last Sunday morning he occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church and acquitted himself in a manner highly creditable. In the course of his sermon he told how the Light had first been shed in his South American home. His father is a physician but was a non-believer in the life to come. One day a missionary came along, weary and traveling with a Bible. The young man's father was asked to buy but he scorned the offer. Then the colonel left a Bible without charge and went on his way, declining the offer to remain for the night as he expressed the hope of making a sale or sales before the close of the day and thus assist in spreading the gospel. PRIMARY RESULTS IN CANFIELD

Locally there was marked indifference as to the outcome of Tuesday's primary election. The vote was light even in the village and but few farmers left the plow to visit the polls. And throughout the county there was a light vote in the rural districts. The vote in Canfield village and township is appended.

Letter From President N. E. O. N. C. Class '06.

Youngstown, May 22, 1912.
To the Members of the Class of '06,
Dear Friends:—I fell last March and broke my arm, and while it is getting along quite good, yet it is far from being well. It has injured my health in a general way and I must rest in the mountains as soon as school closes. My object in writing in this public manner is because I must take the Dispatch, which is the paper of our college home and you will all hear from me in this way. I shall not be with you this year in our annual reunion and this is my way of explaining to you all. I think it was understood last year that we would meet this year at the home of our class-mate, Miss Clara Williams, in Canfield, on Saturday evening of commencement week. If this is not correct will some one kindly correct the error through the Dispatch?

I always enjoy our reunions and am sorry I cannot be present this year. I trust the meeting shall be as pleasant and enjoyable as all former ones and that we may all meet next year and many more years.
Your sincere friends and classmate,
GEO. W. ALLOWAY.

The reunion will be held at the home of Miss Ruby Chisler Friday afternoon and evening, June 21.
President of Class.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, God, in His mysterious providence removed from the Church militant to the Church triumphant May the 8th, 1912, Alexander Dickson, our beloved brother and long-time associate in the membership and Eldership of the Presbyterian church of Canfield, Ohio, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Session of said church bow in humble submission to the will of our Master who doeth all things well. We sincerely mourn our loss, but with the assurance that our loss is his eternal gain, as we say with the Apostle Paul "he has fought a good fight, he has finished his course, he has kept the faith and won the crown which the Lord awards to all who are righteous and faithful to the end. His piety was unaffected, his zeal commendable, his faith strong and without the shadow of a doubt, his noble and self-sacrificing manner in his life and his lifelong devotion to the cause of his Master such as to warrant us in the belief that he was a sincere Christian. We shall miss his wise counsel in the management of the affairs of the Church, but we cherish the memory of his pleasant, agreeable and self-sacrificing manner in all our deliberations and work as officers of this Church which he has served as Elder since Oct. 9th, 1898.

Resolved, That we sincerely sympathize with the widow and son of our deceased brother, knowing that our Heavenly Father will care for the widow and orphans and all who put their trust in Him.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Session, published in The Mahoning Dispatch and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

Passed unanimously at a called meeting of the Session and signed by us this 10th day of May, 1912.
